3 of 3 review helpful A trip worth taking By E Clinton This is an excellent book that tells the story of John Wesley Powell s 1869 river trip through the Grand Canyon It relies on primary source documents such as diaries and notes taken by the adventurers The author also interviewed modern adventurers who have taken boat trips through the dangerous rapids of the Colorado River Because the author took the time to really Quote from John Wesley Powell at start of the book We are now ready to start on our way down the Great Unknown We are three quarters of a mile in the depths of the earth We have an unknown distance yet to run an unknown river yet to explore What falls there are we know not what rocks beset the channel we know not what walls rise over the river we know not Ah well We may conjecture many things The men talk as cheerfully as ever jests are bandied about
